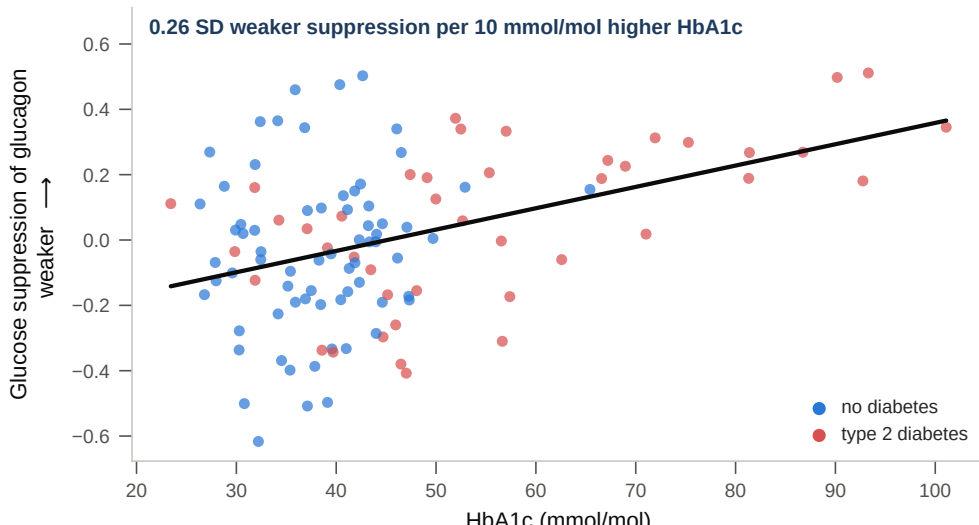
Higher HbA1c, weaker glucose suppression of glucagon in human islets

Human islets, 150 donors

Stimulus-resolved model separates capacity from each stimulus response

Replicated at a second laboratory on islets from the same donors


Whole-islet respiration does not detectably account for it